

In the Claims:

Claims 17, 21 and 22 were present. Claims 21 and 22 are amended.

1-16. (canceled)

17. (previously presented) A device for playing a space game, comprising:

game elements, consisting of meteorites and space waste, randomly moving in space outside the Earth;

a game event assessment means located on board a space vehicle and being game fields reliably separated from each other and provided with identification markers, and a technical facility for registering a game events, defined as collisions of some game fields with one or more of said game elements, said technical facility located on board a space vehicle and comprising sensors generating signals about collisions to be included into the game event occurrence data, along with information about exact game field identification marker and exact time of each collision;

a telemetry channel for transmitting said game event occurrence data outside the Earth to the Earth to be consequently awarded to a player for use in a space game.

18. (canceled).

19. (canceled).

20. (canceled).

21. (currently amended) A method of playing a space game using the device for playing a space game of claim 17 as a generator of random numbers, according to which gamblers are provided with option to make bets on forecast in which time span and with which identified game fields the collisions of the game elements will be registered, and further following the gaming procedure of conventional roulette.

22. (currently amended) A method of playing a space game using the device for playing a space game of claim 17 as a generator of random numbers, according to which the gamblers are provided with option to make bets on forecast in which time span and with which identified game fields the collisions of the game elements will be registered, and further following the gaming procedure of conventional lottery.